Keith Chasin is a pianist, composer, and bandleader based in Philadelphia. His music is known for its melodic emphasis and strong grooves, creating a blend of instrumental jazz that is easy to hum and fun to listen to, yet artistically bold when it needs to be. Chasin is strongly influenced by the works of Bobby Timmons, Ramsey Lewis, and Herbie Hancock

Chasin's debut album, "On A Personal Note", is a definitive artistic statement. Featuring a mix of original compositions and songs written by music legends, it's a hit-list of Chasin's favorite tunes to perform and a great representation of his live shows. It explores the trio dynamic and the emotional beauty that can come from it, whether it's joy from an upbeat song or the beauty of a ballad. Featuring saxophone great Jerry Weldon on several tracks, it's a captivating performance that enraptures the listener for the entire 64 minute runtime.

With a growing fanbase, Chasin is a jazz pianist on the rise. He has performed at a variety of venues like Birdland, Lincoln Center, the Altos de Chavon Amphitheatre, and many other storied music venues. His trio sound is classic, yet brings influence of modern jazz and other genres to the music. It is perfect for any jazz playlist or venue that puts on jazz performances.
